Joey Stevens: Seriously-fun weatherman

Joey Stevens and his sidekick, Bob, were the original weather team when we started delivering local weather in 2004.

Gary Drapcho, Sports

DIVERSIFIED AUDIENCE

We're in over 16 countries and growing. Our commitment began with weather and in 2009 expanded to include a 30-minute news show featuring current events, tourism, economic news, breaking news, politics, sports and topics affecting your subscribers daily.

SERIOUS ABOUT COMMUNITY

In January, 2010, we embraced the region by holding a OneCaribbeanTelevision telethon for the Haiti Earthquake Fund. Our efforts and the region's generosity generated over $80,000 (US) for the victims. We've produced numerous short documentaries for the SOS Children's Orphanage (Jamaica), Karanambu River Otters Sanctuary (Guyana), Asa Wright Nature Centre (Trinidad), Boatswain Turtle Farm (Cayman) and the Providence Children's School (Barbados).

HYPER-LOCAL WEATHER AND NEWS CONTENT: 100% Caribbean

We've invested in the latest technology to provide our viewers with highly-accurate forecasts. Our forecasts are timely, wide ranging and localized by country and island. We place high priority on tropical storms and hurricanes devoting the time necessary to keep your subscribers informed and protected from severe weather. Unlike other sources, we follow tropical waves from Africa.

EXPERIENCED STAFF

Six weather staff including three professional meteorologists work daily on Caribbean weather reports. Combined, they have 60 years of experience.
